This architectural rendering shows a spacious, modern school interior. A large, multi-level staircase with a black metal railing is the central feature, set against a wall with vertical wood paneling. To the left, a glass-walled courtyard provides a view of the outdoors, where a small tree and other students are visible. The ground floor has a polished floor, and the upper level has a glass railing. The ceiling is white with recessed circular lights. Several groups of students are depicted throughout the space, including a group sitting on the stairs and others walking or standing in the courtyard area.

This image shows the interior of a modern basketball court. The ceiling is made of exposed wooden beams with recessed linear lighting. The walls are white with large windows on the left side, featuring wooden frames. The floor is a polished wooden basketball court with blue and orange markings. Three people are visible: two on the left in blue jerseys (one with number 4, one with number 10) and one on the right in a light blue shirt and dark shorts, holding a basketball. A basketball hoop is visible on the right side of the court. The overall design is clean and modern, with a focus on natural materials like wood.
